

NO GO TELL

Keeping Kids Safe

Story Book Teaching Tool

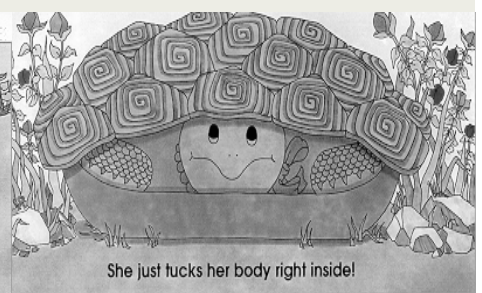

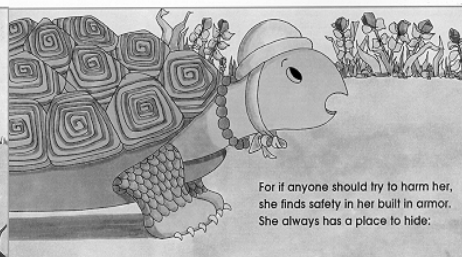

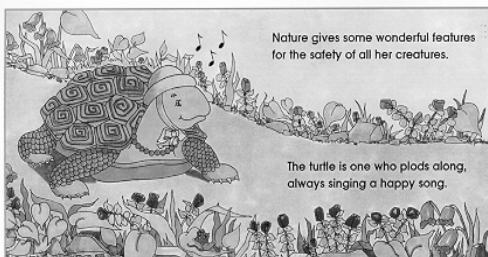

Child abuse and neglect is identified as a "national epidemic" by the United States Advisory Board on Child Abuse and Neglect. Recent statistics suggest that 1 out of 4 girls and 1 out of 6 boys will be the victim of sexual assault by the age of 18. (PCAR, 2005). Statistics also suggest that 83% of victims know the offender. (PCAR, 2005). The Justice Department has estimated that one of six victims is under age 12 (National Crime Victimization Survey, 2006).

Being aware of these facts make it all that more important to teach children, at a very young age, skills that will help them reduce their risk of sexual assault. "NO, GO, TELL" is a learning tool designed to facilitate discussion of prevention education in the classroom and at home to help students learn important personal safety risk reduction skills.

"NO, GO, TELL" is designed to help teach preschool aged children the importance of body safety. The story uses animated animals such as a turtle, elephants, a lizard and fish that use the safety rules to keep their bodies safe.
